

48 hours adds hope.

If you found a lump in your breast or received an abnormal mammogram, the last thing you'd want to do is wait 2 or 3 weeks for an appointment with a breast care specialist. That's why the new Breast Care Center at Orlando Regional Medical Center provides women with a physician visit and pathology report often within 48 hours. It's less stress. It's less worrying about your health. And it's real answers within days, not weeks. Through M. D. Anderson Cancer Center Orlando and The Surgical Group of Orlando, the specialists at our Breast Care Center provide peace of mind and they add hope. The most hope for survival.
